

EchoStar, Windstream Sign Extension to Agreement

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. & LITTLE ROCK, Ark.-- EchoStar Communications Corporation (Nasdaq: DISH) and Windstream Corporation (NYSE: WIN) today announced a multi-year extension to their existing agreement to offer DISH Network™ satellite TV service to Windstream customers throughout its 16-state territory. The satellite TV service has been available to customers as part of a discounted bundle of communications and entertainment services since 2005.

Both new and existing Windstream | DISH Network customers will continue to have a single point of contact and single monthly Windstream bill, and qualify for bundled discounts.

"DISH Network satellite TV service bundled with Windstream voice and broadband service offers added value and convenience for our customers," said Keith Paglusch, chief operating officer of Windstream. "Extending our relationship with EchoStar strengthens our strategy to bundle services as a communications and entertainment company."

"This extension solidifies our strategic relationship with Windstream to offer our customers the best all-digital TV, high-speed Internet, and local and long distance services," said Thomas Stingley, senior vice president of Alliance Management at EchoStar. "We look forward to providing customers the benefits of receiving a single bill for DISH Network and Windstream services – all for an unparalleled value."

Windstream residential customers can order DISH Network service and schedule installation by calling 1-866-961-WIND. Bundled service packages and prices vary by market.
